THEMES

Emerging contaminants • Analytical methods for trace analysis • Water quality, wastewater treatment and reuse, drinking water • Nanomaterials: from characterization to risk assessment • Microplastic • Air pollution chemistry • Tropospheric Multiphase and Heterogeneous Chemistry • Soils and bound residues • Multimedia partitioning, transport and modeling • Biodegradation of chemicals in natural and man-made ecosystems • Isotope techniques and application (for process analysis) • Predicting compound properties and effects • Biological effects of chemicals • Human exposure and toxicity • Chemical risk and regulatory issues (REACH, biocides, pesticides, pharmaceuticals) • Open Topic
Special Sessions: • Current advances in environmental risk assessment of ionic organic chemicals • Fate and behavior of contaminants of emerging concern in the agricultural environment

The online abstract submission is now open!

For online submission, please take use of the abstract template provided on the conference website (max. 500 words incl.)
Deadline for abstract submission: 30th April 2015. Authors will be informed about the abstract selection in June 2015.
